Gary Ward knifes over for Canyon's first touchdown against the Floydada Whirlwinds Friday night in Kimbrough Stadium.

Ward a few plays previous had set up the TD when he snagged a Ricky Cooper pass deep in Whirlwind territory.

Rampaging Eagles becalm whirlwind

By KEVIN LONG

Certainly there was more to Canyon's 26-6 thrashing of Floydada than just Gary Ward. There were other Eagles out there last Friday night running, hitting, passing and just generally knocking the wind out of the Whirlwinds. But when it came down to the essentials, which seemed to be every other play, it was Ward running wide, going inside through holes as big as the living room, sidestepping, spinning, or taking pitchouts and catching passes from Quarterback Ricky Cooper. Ward gained 166 yards in 25 carries, scored three touchdowns and was enough all by himself to stun Floydada.

"He played excellent football," said Head Coach Deane Wright in what had to be the understatement of the night. "Of course Gary is just one of those kids who doesn't have a lot of speed — he just has a little knack for finding daylight and he just does an excellent job."

"I'll tell you what; you'll notice that he does an excellent job blocking when those other people are running with the football."

You could also notice that Canyon wasted no time lollygagging around last Friday. On their second possession they went 69 yards in nine plays with Ward going over from the two. After an exchange of punts the Eagles found themselves with a first and ten from their own 31. On the first play, Ward knifed over left tackle for 12 yards and four plays later caught a 24 yard pass from Cooper and Canyon was down to the Whirlwind nine. After three straight carries by Jonathan Hull, Ward scored on a fourth down play.

Floydada came right back on the next series when Quarterback Jay Womack pitched out to his halfback Rusty Cagle, who caught the Eagle secondary off guard and threw to Randy Rath-ers, who was at the 40 yard line with 40 yards of unpopulated area ahead. Canyon's Randy Langen caught him from behind with a shoestring tackle at the 25 and 3 plays later Matt Madewell bailed his team out with his second interception at the goal line.

The Eagles second score came after an exchange of punts. They went 38 yards on 4 plays with David McKay running over from the 15.

On the next Floydada possession Eagle tackle Tab Keener forced and recovered a Whirlwind fumble at the Floydada 32. Ward sparked this drive by catching a 21 yard pass then scoring from the 7 for his second touchdown of the night and the Eagles walked into the locker room with a 20-0 lead.

Canyon came out swinging again in the second half and went 62 yards on 11 plays to take a 26-0 lead with 7:47 left in the third quarter. Ward carried the ball 9 plays out of the 11 and scored his final touchdown on a 4 yard run.

Floydada finally got onto the scoreboard with 10:35 left in the game, aided by a pass interference call which cost the Eagles 32 yards, with Womack going over from the four.

Canyon rolled up 382 yards total offense compared to the Whirlwinds 173 and gained 28 first downs to Floydada's nine.

"Our ballclub was ready to play tonight," summarized Wright. "I felt like their attitude was good all day and they got themselves mentally prepared."

"Offensively we played much better, our pass offense was good. Our defense played much better and I was proud of the over-all effort."

Wright also had accolades for Cooper, who kicked two extra points and served as the field general.

"I think our pass game was what kept them off balance," he said.

The Eagles next contest will be in Amarillo with Caprock, Sept. 17.

News probe reveals praise

Police get white hat

In a five-month investigation of the Canyon police department, The Canyon News found no incidences of illegal or grossly improper practices by city police.

The News began the investigation in April in response to specific complaints and to what seemed to be widespread suspicion of police methods.

The informal probe was undertaken with the knowledge of Canyon police.

In an attempt to sample general impressions of police conduct, a list of 107 names was taken from the municipal court docket book for a six week period.

The docket, which is open for public inspection, contains a record of all minor misdemeanor arrests or traffic citations given by the city police.

Using the telephone directory, phone numbers were paired with as many names as possible, or about 30. Many WT students were probably omitted because the university was between sessions.

After compiling the list with phone numbers, The News staff called each one of the numbers, although they did not get a response from all the numbers.

The interview included an explanation of the survey and asked the person to give a general impression, based on experience, of the policeman's conduct and ability.

Only one person was critical of police actions. Canyon police were too zealous in enforcing traffic laws, he complained, and were building a reputation for Canyon as being a speed trap.

Others praised the police.

One motorist, commenting on Officer Joe Fiola, said "He was extremely nice, just real nice, about 95 percent nicer than Amarillo police."

Other motorists who had been cited by Canyon police made similar comments.

Three 17-year-old Amarillo youths, arrested here for possession of less than two ounces of marijuana, all said they were well treated by police and had no complaints.

The News also tried to circulate the information about their investigation to high school students, asking for students with specific complaints to come to the paper.

There was no response.

A survey taken by graduate psychology students at WTSU on the attitudes of Canyon youth toward the police disclosed that, as a whole, junior and senior high students held a neutral opinion of the police, neither critical nor approving.

The News also followed up specific complaints.

In one incident, a WT student complained that the police were harassing him and had answered a call by him to his apartment, which was being burglarized, and ended up arresting him instead of the burglar. He had numerous complaints of mis-

Bindweed fight is on

The fight against bindweed and other spreading noxious weeds will be discussed with the Canyon City Commission Monday evening by a group of concerned local citizens.

"There is no real solution at present, except that folks begin spraying for weed control," stated George Cox representing the local organization of Young Farmers.

Cox noted that he and several other concerned farmers will be meeting with the commissioners to discuss the growing weed problem.

Cox also noted that the only county in this area which has a Weed Control District at present is Swisher County and plans are being made to visit with county representatives there to learn more about their organization and program soon.

Canyon Young Farmers will be meeting Thursday for a 6:30 a.m. breakfast at the Flame Steak House to further discuss control of bindweed in Randall County. Young farmers, ranchers and others of the community who would be interested in the discussions are encouraged to participate.

Commission faces busy day

Randall County Commissioners will set salaries of county employees Monday as a part of a 24-point agenda for their regular meeting.

Other items to be discussed include:

- ... Herb Hilliard, county road maintenance.

- ... Bids

- ... Discuss advertising for bids for fuel, county road dept.

- ... Discuss joint purchasing

- ... Discuss Kids, Inc. funding

- ... Discuss recording future meetings

- ... Discuss facility for status offenders

- ... Discuss ambulance grant

- ... Discuss membership in National Association of Counties

- ... Review legislative report

- ... Review fire survey results

- ... Mike Allen to discuss sun protective glass tinting for South Amarillo Annex (2:30)

- ... Paul Sammons to discuss 4-H Banquet and awards

- ... Jim Grissum of Amarillo Air Conditioning to discuss air conditioning/heating in the South Amarillo Annex

- ... Randall County Young

Farmers to discuss bindweed control

- ... Metro personnel salaries

- ... Unfinished business

- ... Courthouse maintenance

- ... Miscellaneous reports

- ... Next week's agenda.

Library reception today

The unveiling of the wall hanging which depicts the progressive history of Randall County will be held today, September 12, at the Canyon Public Library in the recently completed Canyon Civic Complex.

The ceremony will honor members of the Canyon Fine Arts Club for their two year effort in preparation of the wall hanging as a bicentennial effort. The unveiling activities are set at 3:45 p.m. followed with a reception from 4-5 p.m. in the new city library facilities.

The public is invited for the unveiling and open house at the library which is being co-sponsored by the Canyon Public Library and the Randall County-City of Canyon Bicentennial Committee. Serving on the reception committee are Kathy Glazener, chairman, Mary Huntington, Jane Stephens, Mary Alice Hines and Margaret Harper.

Proceeding the open house and reception will be a community presentation of "Films For The Family" set to begin at 2:30 p.m. under sponsorship of the library board. The films will be shown in the municipal courtroom on the second floor of the Canyon Civic Complex and are monthly film presentations to be sponsored by the library board.

Register to vote before deadline

With the passage of the new Texas registration law, voting is made easier than ever before. In the last presidential election, Canyon residents were well below the state percentage of registered voters who voted.

Water right fight looms

The city is waiting for the next move in what could become a fight over water rights on a section of land near Umbarger.

The controversy stems from a 40 foot strip of land created through a surveyor's error. The pie-shaped strip between the city water rights and a county road is owned by the Crist brothers, one of which, Del, lives in Canyon, Metcalf said.

City manager Glen Metcalf said the city had several courses of action available. He hopes the owners of property adjoining the section on which the city has the water rights will accept a compromise, he said.

The owners some time ago drilled a well on the strip, which was actually supposed to be drilled a mile to the west.

With the well in the wrong place, the permit granted for drilling by the High Plains Water Conservation district is invalid, so technically the operation of the well is a violation of the law.

Tuesday, Frank Rainer, executive director of the water district, came to the city commissioners to ask them to grant a variance to validate the Crist well.

Wells are allowed no closer than 300 yards from each other. Since the Crist well is set almost on the property line, granting a variance would keep the city from using a 300 yard area of the water rights.

A permit from the Crists to drill another well on the strip was turned down recently by the water district after Metcalf, city engineer Bill McMorries and water superintendent Robert Rogers advised a district meeting in Lubbock to protest.

The next move is to come Sept. 17, when the water district board of directors meets. Metcalf said he hoped the directors would take no action on granting the variance.

If they do nothing, the existing well will be technically illegal, Metcalf said.

The city will then probably grant a variance, if the owners of the strip will enter an agreement not to drill any more wells on the Street fight nears resolve

One of the last snags holding up the improvements on Lamont Street is very close to being resolved.

The street that borders the Gene Howe Elementary School was the object of an intense campaign by area residents last year to get curbs, gutters and sidewalks after a near-fatal accident there.

Jay Knight, then a third-grader, was struck by a car after he darted into the street from the Court probe end expected Monday

Randall County grand jury is expected to wind up its investigation Monday of alleged violation of the Texas Open Meetings Law by commissioners' court.

Foreman Boyce Box has called a special session for 9 o'clock Monday morning.

Randall County District Attorney Randy Sherrod initiated the investigation because of alleged violation stemming from the hiring of Carroll Wilson as county administrator.

Giving testimony Monday will be all members of the court except Judge Woody Pond and Commissioner Jim Fletcher. Fletcher and Judge Pond already have been questioned.

Investigation began Aug. 1, the same day on which Wilson started his new job.

Members of the court have been critical because the probe has not been brought to a conclusion.

After editorial comment in The News last Sunday, a member of the grand jury called the district attorney's office and asked for the special meeting.

Sharon Ratliff displays a 1935 Buffalo nickel which she lost in a light switch at the home of her mother, Edna Duncan, many years ago when she was just a child. Mrs. Ratliff recovered the long lost nickel on Friday as she swept off the Duncan porch at 1908 3rd Avenue following an automobile accident in which the Duncan home was rammed.

Medical hook-ups face city questions

A meeting scheduled to explain a proposed region wide emergency medical hook-up will have to answer a number of questions before the city will vote for it, city manager Glen Metcalf said Thursday.

Representatives of Canyon, Randall County, Potter County and Amarillo will meet Wednesday to review the plans.

Metcalf said right now he neither supports or opposes the system.

"They will have to answer some questions before I'd vote yes," he said.

A system that links all fire, police, emergency medical and rescue operations into one network is being proposed. A regional emergency telephone number, 911, would be used to contact either fire or police throughout the area.

Metcalf said that could possibly mean that the dispatcher for Canyon might operate from an Amarillo base.

"He wouldn't know all the areas here or the people and it might take him longer to give the right information," he said.

Metcalf said he had talked to managers of other places that already are a part of an emergency hook-up. Some liked it and some didn't, he said.

"In a lot of places that have it, the people use it more as a directory assistance than an emergency number," he said.

Metcalf said the system might not be possible in Canyon because of technical questions of equipment here or the system might be too expensive.

Dumpground in violation

City Manager Glen Metcalf this week received a letter from Texas Health Services here that the dump ground is not in compliance with state regulations.

Office Director Ron Freeman said Canyon's violations are not serious.

Freeman said the city is not in compliance with its brush demolition and construction waste sites. He said some cardboard has been put into the brush site violating regulations.

He said a part of the fills have not been covered to a sufficient depth with dirt.

Also cited was the spreading of garbage too much in the areas where waste is placed that will rot.

A meeting is scheduled between state health and city officials to work out methods of compliance. Freeman said the city will then have 60 days to submit a compliance plan.

Museum fills vacant post for present

The executive committee of the Panhandle Plains Historical Society has appointed Claire Kuehn to serve as acting director of the Panhandle Plains Historical Museum.

The appointment is for a four month period or until a new museum director is hired. At present the position is being advertised through various museum publications.

Mrs. Kuehn, a resident of Canyon since 1946, has been a member of the museum's staff since 1971. She was serving as the archivist librarian for the museum at the time of the appointment, a position she had held almost five years.

Before joining the museum's staff in 1971, Mrs. Kuehn served as head of the reference department for Amarillo Public Library. She and her husband, Edwin, were residents of the city since 1946 and before his death in 1967 he was in the earth moving business.

The Kuehn family includes two sons: Ralph, who is a professor of business with Southwest Texas State College in San Marcos and Charlie, who is a sophomore at Canyon High School.

serves to keep our kids at home. Youngsters tend to marry and settle in areas where they have attended college.

Keeping West Texas State University abreast of the times may mean that those of us who are growing older will be able to visit our grandkids in Amarillo and Borger once a month instead of in Los Angeles and Chicago once a year.

In spite of the things I have listed, there's a lot going for WTSU that is extremely positive. I get reports from the campus that its academic excellence is growing daily.

I could name a dozen of its graduates who have national reputations in their fields.

I don't want to see any opposition build to our university if it can be prevented. I'd like to see the people I've mentioned reach an accommodation.

I'd like to see the chain of command in the athletic department strictly observed at least for a while.

I appreciate Boone Pickens' interest in WTSU. No one can deny that Boone is a moving force in Amarillo and the Panhandle.

And let me say right here, in spite of the things for which I fault him, Cloyce Box probably has done more for WTSU than anyone else in the past decade—maybe in the history of the school.

But again I say, give us detente... a relaxing of tension.

Nothing would be lost to anyone if President Watkins were given a breather and allowed to devote his whole mind to running the university through next May.

Then if a large group still were dissatisfied, take another look through proper and legal channels.

Letter to editor

Dear Editor: This is in response to Mr. Jim Palmer's letter in last Sunday's Canyon News.

I would like to inform him that the current president of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce is Don Johnston, owner of Johnston's Trustworthy Hardware. If he is presently in the employ of any of the banks in town, it is a surprise to all of us.

Sincerely, Roland Black Manager Canyon Chamber of Commerce P. S.

I do hope that the facts upon which Mr. Palmer has based his convictions against building a new post office in town are more accurate than his information concerning the employment of our Chamber President.

Trash issue probed

School board member Ed Wieck suggested this week that the schools could solve their litter problems and teach the students something about work and good order by having the kids pick up trash around the schools once a week during their PE class.

School superintendent Dr. Sam Thompson, wouldn't buy that idea, contending that the PE classes have a different purpose.

But he did say, the trash clean-up could be part of some student council or club project.

This is a good idea. A student organization that wants to render a service to their school and community could hardly find a better subject. — L.T.

Basic education classes to begin

Adult basic education classes start this week for out of school persons who did not complete high school and desire to work toward a GED certificate.

Two adult basic education classes are being offered through the Canyon Independent School District this fall with Mrs. John Childs as instructor for the courses. The classes are designed for adults 18 years old, who have been out of school at least one year and did not finish high school, desiring to achieve the GED certificate.

Classes start Monday evening, Sept. 13, at Gene Howe Elementary School building. The class will meet from 7-10 p.m. in the school's library.

Tuesday evening, Sept. 14, Adult Basic Education classes will begin at the Canyon High School building. The class will be held from 7-10 p.m. on Tuesdays in the agriculture department classroom.

The classes are offered free of charge and anyone interested in them should check with Mrs. Childs at the first class session in their area.

John Guthrie was presented with this painting at a party held in honor of his retirement. Courthouse employees presented the

Our World Perseverance must for child's talent

BY ANN BROWN

All responsible parents want their children to be successful. The more talents children are born with, and the more skills they acquire, the prouder the parents.

Everyone should be grateful for every talent, and work hard to acquire skills. Without perseverance, however, talent and skill are equally useless.

The majority of great contributions to the world are made by the patient plodders — with or without skill and talent.

Thomas Edison, with his 900 patents, is credited with having contributed more to the comfort and welfare of humanity than any man in history. He was also the most persistent.

An assistant encountered Edison one morning at two o'clock, wreathed in smiles. Thinking Edison had solved a research problem he had been working on for years, his helper said, "You've solved it; you've found the answer?"

"No," said Edison, "not a blasted thing works; now I can start all over again."

was an impossible dream. Field labored. He crossed the ocean 41 times — and he never heard of an airplane.

In addition to the scientific side of the job, he also organized companies in England and America to provide the financial support for his unpopular project.

Once when it seemed success was assured, the cable broke, and he had to send grappling hooks down 2500 feet to recover it.

It was not Field's talent, scientific skill, nor organizational ability that laid the cable; it was his determination to keep on keeping on.

Success is built on small margins. The world's champion runner is no more than 5 percent faster than scores of ordinary runners.

The fastest race horse finishes only a few seconds ahead of the also-rans.

Ambition and perseverance usually determine the winner in any honest race.

Roger Babson, a celebrated syndicated columnist for generations, said after 60 years of analyzing the causes of success and failure in life and work he had discovered four basic contributing factors:

1. "Physical well being;

2. Constant effort to develop one's personal assets;

3. Determining and working toward a series of life goals;

4. Allowing time for meditation and spiritual regeneration."

"If you have anything you would like to have displayed, please call my office at 655-3371 or bring them to the county extension office in the courthouse."

Author to hold marching clinic

A. R. Casavant, a traveling author and clinician from Chattanooga, Tenn., will conduct a marching clinic at West Texas State University Sept. 14 and 15.

The clinic will be conducted in Room 203 of the Fine Arts Building from 5 to 6:30 p.m. and from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

Area high school band directors, WTSU band members and music education majors will attend the clinic, which will be sponsored by the WTSU chapters of Kappa Kappa Psi, national band fraternity, and Tau Beta Sigma, national band sorority.

Casavant has written approximately 30 books on precision drill, according to Dr. Gary Garner, WTSU professor of music and band director.

Parent nights

Rex Reeves annual parents' night will be held tomorrow at 7:30 for Kindergarten through third grade. Tuesday night the same routine will be scheduled for parents of fourth through sixth grade students.

A PTA meeting will be conducted each night to introduce teachers to the parents. Parents then will visit classrooms and talk with their child's teacher.

History of county told in needlecraft

The historic story of Randall County in the Texas Panhandle has been captured in cloth. A wall hanging in the new public library in Canyon picturing the account of the history of the county from the early days of the Indians until the present has been designed and sewn by the members of the Fine Arts Club of Canyon, with the help of three friends.

This history, not on the shelf but on the wall, not written with ink but shaped with needles and thread, is six feet by seven and a half. It is a gift to the city from the Fine Arts Club of Canyon, a small organization of women in the arts which was founded as the Music Arts Club in March, 1940.

The hanging consists of ten panels. The top and bottom panels are the work of the chairman of the committee, Claudia Neelley. They show the Indian days in the area at the top, and the wildlife in the Palo Duro Canyon, the 120 mile gash which cuts across the plains just twelve miles from Canyon, at the bottom.

Assisting Miss Neelley with the organization of materials for the hanging were Mrs. George Umberson in 1974-75, and Mrs. Dan Sanders in 1975-76.

Charlotte Brantley designed the Coronado section which shows the explorer as he first saw the canyon in 1541, and the glimpse of the show "TEXAS" which has played to 880,000 people in that same canyon in the last eleven years.

Helen Harrell painted the master picture for the grain elevator and for the prairie fire.

Anita Low designed the originals for the ranch scene and the yucca blossom.

The street of old Canyon and the buildings of West Texas State University, the University of the Golden Spread are the work of Ann Palmer.

Preparing the original paintings and numbered outlines for the sewers occupied the artists during most of 1974 and 1975.

During the end of 1975 and all of 1976, other members of the club and three friends have been transferring these plans into a cloth hanging, bringing out the designs in applique and stitchery.

The five artists bring unusual backgrounds to the unusual work.

Miss Neelley was born near Olney and lived many years at the campground at Ceta Glen, one of the branches of the Palo Duro Canyon. As she grew up she observed every facet of life on the plains and in the canyon. Her father was a farmer and rancher. A graduate of West Texas State University who did advanced work at the Universities of Colorado and Tennessee, she has developed many artistic skills: painting, weaving, creations in stitchery, and has traveled in many countries where skilled crafts were famous so that she could study the work.

Miss Neelley was one of the first artists to study creativity in children and the ways they learn to develop their artistic talents. Starting as a pioneer art teacher, she began in a school system where she had to move from room to room for her classes, carrying her materials as she went. Abernathy, Lubbock, Canyon public schools and the faculty of West Texas State University have all had the benefit of her skills.

Charlotte Brantley combines the direction of the Art Department at Canyon High School with the responsibility of costumer for "TEXAS", the famous musical drama by Paul Green which drew more than 98,000 people to the Palo Duro Canyon amphitheatre in this summer of 1976.

She was also the designer of the rope reredos and the stained glass windows at the new Presbyterian Church of Canyon which have attracted national attention.

Mrs. Brantley is from San Marcos, Texas and holds the BA degree from Southwestern State. Her MA is from West Texas State. She also studied and taught at the University of Indiana and is on the summer faculty of West Texas State. She is a fine violinist as well as an artist and played with the symphonies of Austin and Amarillo, Texas.

Connected with her work at Canyon High School, she has included designing sets and costumes for the annual school musicals among her responsibilities. So many of her students have won honors in Art Competitions that she was named Outstanding Educator in Secondary Education in 1974-75.

Mrs. Brantley is the wife of Royal Brantley, director of Opera Workshop at West Texas State University and musical director for "TEXAS." They are the parents of four children, all skilled in the arts.

Helen Harrell was born in Virginia and came to Canyon, Texas on one of the first immigrant trains. She grew up here, became interested in music and is a skilled pianist. After several other teaching posts, she became a member of the piano faculty at West Texas State where she stayed until her marriage to Newton Harrell.

Their married life has been on the famed JA ranch. They own the Pony Springs division of this ranch which was founded a hundred years ago by Col. Goodnight, the first in the area. Sharply aware of the beauty around her, Mrs. Harrell began to paint in 1960. When the Harrells purchased property on the island of Umnak in the Aleutians, she recorded the beauty of that place as well. The Harrells have traveled widely and their African trophies fill a room in the Panhandle Plains Historical Museum in Canyon.

Mrs. Harrell has played hostess to several famous artists who have held painting workshops on her ranch and has attended workshops all over the world. When she and her husband went to England in August this year, they crossed the Atlantic for the thirty-second time.

Anita Low was born in Cass County. Her father was a farmer and business man. She grew up in Shreveport, attended Fair Park High School there, did university work at East Texas State University in English, history and speech and later at West Texas State University. She taught in Farmersville, Texas and at Tennessee Temple College in Chattanooga.

She married a physician, Edwin Low, and they moved to Nigeria where they lived for eleven years while he served as a medical missionary. She taught her three children by the Calvert system until they went to boarding school after the fifth grade. In Nigeria she began to interest herself in the skills of the various crafts. Fascinated by them, she began to paint.

After their move to Canyon, Texas where Dr. Low became associated with the Neblett Clinic and the Palo Duro Hospital, Mrs. Low continued her study. She is now concentrating on copper enameling.

Ann Palmer was born in Pampa where her father was vice-president and general manager of Abercrombie Oil. She attended various schools as the family followed oil developments and went to high school in Sweeney near Edna, Texas. She graduated from the University of Texas in Interior design. Her experience has included remodeling houses, map draftsmanship, design for architectural firms as well as painting.

She married J.W. Palmer who owns a computer data center in Amarillo and they moved to Canyon with their four boys. She returned to college when the boys were in school to obtain her teacher's certificate and a Master's in Art.

She has taught privately and at West Texas State University and owned and managed the Little Art Gallery in Canyon. At present she is teaching a course in mixed media for the Canyon Community Education program.

The hanging will be unveiled at a reception on September 12, 1976 in the public library in Canyon. The library is located in the new Civic Complex here. There will be a film in the municipal courtroom at 2:30 P.M. and the unveiling will follow at 3:45 in the library.

The original library for the City of Canyon and Randall County was organized in 1906 by a group of women who met to organize the Ladies' Book Club. The gift of a book was the admission for membership in the group and these books were circulated among the membership. (Later the name was changed to the Woman's Book Club which in 1915 joined the federation of women's clubs). As a federation project, the club provides a percentage of collected dues to the library fund and in January 1934 the Randall County Library was opened to the public at 301 16th Street.

The founding club gave their collection of books to this library and financial support was given by both the City of Canyon and Randall County for many years. In February 1968 the Library was turned over to the City of Canyon.

Present library board members include Walter Shelly, Claire Kuehn, Kathy Glazener, Terry White and Ted Freidell.

The Canyon Public Library is on the ground floor of the new Civic Complex — 301 16th Street.

Canyon Fine Arts Club, which has made a significant bicentennial effort in their wall hanging for the library, has made many other contributions to the Canyon community since its founding as the Music Arts Club in March 1940.

They presented programs of the works of two Canyon composers who have received national recognition: Houston Bright and Charlotte Ingham Word. They arranged for the exhibit of paintings of Alec Mack, the Canyon painter who is a graduate of the British Royal Academy and for an exhibit of Easter Art.

Before the organization of the Community Concert Series, they brought solo artists to Canyon to perform. They presented many recitals including an ensemble program using four pianos. They sponsored a community chorus which sang carols on the courthouse lawn several Christmas Eves. They brought Marion Keighley Snowden to give her famed lecture on DANCES IN SHAKESPEARE'S DAY, with illustrations played on the virginal and sponsored an organ program by Philip Caddy.

When Paul Green agreed to consider a visit to Canyon to decide whether it would be an appropriate place to tell one of his stories of faith in America, the club joined the Canyon Chamber of Commerce in raising the expense money for his visit.

The Club has given scholarship help to Fine Arts students at WT and donated a book each year to the library there in memory of Marie Fronabarger, a charter member and artist who died young. They also purchased the Orth instruments for Rex Reeves elementary school.

Their program for 1976 will be a consideration of the factors which make excellence in the arts. Officers for 1976 are: Mrs. Ples Harper, President; Mrs. Bill Webb, Vice-president; Mrs. Royal Brantley, Secretary; Mrs. Emmett Haraden, Treasurer, and Mrs. John Green, Assistant.

Local artists who have contributed their efforts and talents to the construction of a historic wall hanging for Canyon Public Library include from left: Helen Harrell, Charlotte Brantley, Ann Palmer, Claudia Neelley and Anita Low, kneeling. The massive wall hanging was a bicentennial two year project for the Canyon Fine Arts Club.

Wall hanging is bicentennial effort

This hanging was created for the library at the suggestion of the Bicentennial committee of Canyon. It is a Bicentennial project — as is the library itself.

After the Fine Arts Club agreed to undertake the project, the research committee prepared a list of events and objects which might well be included. From this, five artists in the Club each chose two subjects and made preliminary sketches to cover their areas. Working from these, they conferred to develop agreements on size, color, placement and general style.

The next year was spent in painting the ten pictures for the panel, and then in preparing work by number outlines which the sewers could follow.

During the summer of 1975, the chairman, Miss Neelley and her vice-chairman, Donna Umberson, shopped for fabrics and yarn, analyzing the designs to decide what each one would need. The pattern, the fabric and the yarn for each panel was put in a large paper sack, ready for the needleworkers.

Miss Neelley fastened the paintings themselves to the floor of her living room with tape, covered them with a plastic throw and rolled the rug over them. The workers would gather every Monday afternoon. Throughout the winter of 1975-76, aided by vice chairman Audrey Sanders, they would roll back the rug, uncover the paintings, take out their patterns and work on the sewing. In between they would take their sacks home and finish details which could be done away from the originals.

In July, 1976, the panels were finished and the canvas stretched for the large frame. The work was moved into a small room adjacent to the library, and the task of fastening the panels to the large canvas began. Using upholstery needles, the outside edges were easy. For the middle, the two tables in the room were pulled apart. One person would lie on the floor, pushing a needle up, while another leaned over the table, pushing it down. In later stages, the frame could stand on its side, and as many as four people on a side could work, pushing the needles from one surface to the other. About twenty people worked on the hanging.

The frame and glass were designed by PGC and were a project of the gift and memorial fund of the library board, working with the city of Canyon.

A Cordial Invitation to Attend REVIVAL SERVICES

JOSEPH AND RUTH GRAY
Evangelist—Children's Worker

REV. JOSEPH GRAY is an elder in the Church of the Nazarene. He has served the church as pastor, evangelist, and educator.

His ministry has extended over a wide area of the United States and Canada. He served for five years as counselor of the Christian Counseling Center in Lubbock, Tex. He also served for over nine years as research editor for a large Bible company in Wichita, Kans. He resigned that position in 1969 to reenter the field of full-time evangelism.

He is a graduate of Pasadena College and has done graduate work in several other schools. He is the author of several books, including The Double Cure and The Open Fountain.

MRS. RUTH GRAY contributes much to the success of her husband's campaigns with her various activities.

She presents her own beautiful flannel pictures illustrating well-known hymns on a varicolored illuminated easel. She is also a gifted reader.

Movies play for students at university

Movie entertainment, part of a diversified program for college students, is planned by the Student Activities Council (SAC) early this semester.

"The Trial of Billy Jack" and "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf" have been selected for September showings. All movies will be shown at 7:30 p.m. in the Activities Center Ballroom on their respective dates. Admission cost is 75¢.

As a follow-up to "Billy Jack," the sequel "Trial of Billy Jack" will pick up and tie up all loose ends from the original story. The second feature is scheduled for Sept. 16-17.

Winding up the flick review for September is "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf." Richard Burton and Elizabeth Taylor star in the movie taken from the play by Edward Albee.

An emotional, powerful and truthful assessment of a marriage gone wrong, this film that won six Academy Awards will be shown Sept. 23-24.

Double ring nuptial vows exchanged Double ring marriage ceremonies were read Aug. 21 at the First Presbyterian Church of Amarillo by Dr. James Carroll, pastor, for Miss Kathy Ledbetter and Don Brecht.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman L. Ledbetter of Pampa and graduated from high school there in 1972. She attended West Texas State University in Canyon two years and was a charter member of Kappa Delta social fraternity and member of the Sigma Nu men's social fraternity organization of Little Sisters. She is presently employed by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Brecht of Midland are parents of the bridegroom who is a 1971 high school graduate of Cal Farley's Boys Ranch High School. He attended West Texas State University three years and was a member of Sigma Nu men's social fraternity. He is employed with Texaco Refinery in Amarillo.

Matching bouquets of white gladioli flanked each side of the pulpit area and eight gold candle poles with off white bows marked alternating pews of the sanctuary. Spiral candelabrum, covered with greenery, marked the wedding altar.

Mrs. Robert M. Skinner, Jr. of Amarillo was organist for the occasion and the prenuptial selections presented vocally were "Walk Hand In Hand" presented by Miss Rene' Harwood of Pampa, "Time In A Bottle" by Miss Ginny George of Amarillo and "If" by Miss Ginny George with guitar accompaniment. "Colour

My World" was presented by Miss Rene' Harwood as the couple performed the memory candle lighting service to close the ceremony.

For her wedding the bride chose a floor length wedding gown of chantilly lace designed with a fitted natural waistline and v-neck encircled with seed pearls and iris sequins. The Juliet sleeves were full and sheared to an elongated cuff of lace edged with scallops, seed pearls and iris sequins. The A-line skirt was appliqued with lace roses with seed pearls and crystals and swept to side and back fullness forming a Cathedral train completely bordered with a ruffled flounce with pyramids and scallops at the skirt edge. She carried a cascade arrangement of white baby roses and light blue carnations entwined with trailing English Ivy backed with white streamers and light blue net. Her bridal hat was designed with an antique lace rippling at the edges with satin streamers in back.

The marriage traditions were carried out with "something new" being a birthstone ring from her parents; "something old" being a watch of the bridegroom's sister, Lynn Brecht; "something borrowed" being a Kappa Delta garter from Miss Vicki Summers; and "something blue" being the traditional wedding garter.

Mrs. Daryl (Karen) Martin of Malvern, Ark., served as the matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Kathy Keel of Pampa, Miss Jeannie Cox of Lubbock and the bridegroom's sister, Miss Lynn Brecht of Midland. Brides-

(See DOUBLE RING below)

Mrs. Lester Don Crow
nee Brenda Kay Oliver

Marriage confirmed

Miss Brenda Kay Oliver and Lester Don Crow exchanged double ring marriage vows Saturday evening at the Temple Baptist Church of Amarillo with the pastor, Rev. Dale Cain, officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd A. Oliver of Rt. 2, Amarillo. She is a graduate of Canyon High School and former student of West Texas State University.

Also a graduate of Canyon High School, the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Crow of Tijeras, New Mexico and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Reynolds of Monett, Missouri. He is the owner of AAA Fire and Safety Company, Amarillo.

The wedding altar was decorated with a 15 bract candelabrum fixed with jade foliage and joined by a matching pair of spiral candelabrum highlighted with jade foliage and pink and burgundy carnations at the base of each candle. Arrangements of pink gladioli and carnations flanked each side of the wedding altar and the aisles were decorated with aisle bows of pink with flowers and greenery.

Miss Debbie White played guitar and sang "Love Song" by Anne Murray, "Wedding Song" and "The Lord's Prayer." Miss Charlotte Crowell played traditional wedding marches and background music for the ceremony at the organ.

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride chose a formal wedding gown of white organza fashioned with an empire waistline and long sleeves framed by a deep flounce cuff. The sheer v-shaped yoke framed a high ruffle neckline with Venice floral lace trimming the waistline and sleeves. The high gathered back yoke ended in a chapel train which was attached to the full skirt with matching lace trimming the skirt and train hemlines.

The bride's wedding dress was accented by a loose brimmed picture hat of white organza which was trimmed in matching Venice lace similar to that used on the bridal dress. The picture hat also had a sheer circular veil of silk illusion extending to waist length. The traditional marriage was completed with the bride using her grandmother's lace handkerchief as "something old and borrowed" and selecting her wedding dress and a diamond necklace, a gift from the bridegroom, as "something new." The traditions of marriage were completed with the wedding garter as "something blue" and the bride had a penny dated the year of her birth in the bridal shoe.

The bridegroom wore a black western suit trimmed with white for the occasion, which was a gift from the bride.

Barbara Oliver served her sister as maid of honor and wore a formal dress of burgundy jersey with a pink soft brimmed hat trimmed with rose buds.

Marie Peek and Mrs. Bruce (Jemmi Carol) England were bridesmaid and bridesmatron. They were matching dresses to the maid of honor with matching hats. The bridal attendants carried votive cup candle bouquets with burgundy and pink carnations highlighted by roses.

Leslie Foster was flowergirl. She wore a formal length pastel pink dotted swiss dress trimmed with burgundy ribbon and had flowers in her hair as she carried a white basket filled with roses.

Britt Brown of Claude was best man. Groomsmen were Ricky Dugan of Happy and Bruce England of Monett, Missouri.

The bride's cousin, Troy Eavenson of Wylie, Texas, was ringbearer. Ushering were Lynn Wright and Eddie Wilson, both of Canyon.

The bride presented her mother with a long stemmed red rosebud previous to the ceremony and made the rosebud presentation to the bridegroom's mother during the recessional. For her daughter's wedding, the bride's mother chose a pink chiffon dress trimmed with lace with a matching lace jacket. The bridegroom's mother wore an A-line doubleknit and chiffon dress of rust and brown.

Fellowship hall was the setting for the wedding reception where the wedding guests were served from the five tiered wedding cake. Burgundy and pink flowers accented the bride's table which was laid with a pastel pink cloth and held a silver punch bowl with silver candelabra.

Laid with a burgundy cloth, the bridegroom's table featured a silver coffee service and silver candelabra for decoration.

Punch, coffee, cake, mints and nuts were served by Laura Taylor and Karen Tow, both of Canyon. Marie Wafford of Amarillo, Lisa Morton of Dallas and Denise Yarbrough of Panhandle.

The couple took a wedding trip to Pagosa Springs, Colorado and the San Juan Mountains and will be establishing their home at Rt. 1, Claude on return. For travel, the bride chose a white pants outfit with a sweater set featuring red, navy and white.

Sorority chapter resumes meetings

Xi Kappa Zeta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority met for the first fall session on Tuesday at the Bob Costley home where new yearbooks were distributed to the members.

Chapter president, Nell Sims, was in charge of the business meeting as members repeated the opening rituals in unison with nine members present.

It was announced that the Area Beta Sigma Phi Convention will be held in Dumas Sept. 25-26. The chapter discussed area convention and elected to invite guests and transferes to their next regular meeting Sept. 21 in the home of Bettie Hunter at Bell Place Apartments, Amarillo, at 7:30 p.m.

The chapter members decided to send the name of the late Juanita Johnston to Area Convention for consideration in the convention Memorial Services. The chapter business meeting was adjourned with closing rituals in unison by the membership.

"Introduction" was the title for the chapter program presented by Bettie Hunter during the evening. The door prize was won by Monica Benham.

The executive board met at noon at the "Only Place" restaurant in Canyon. Next social event for the chapter will be Sept. 25 with a "poor man's cookout" planned to be held at the Speck Benham home.

At Tuesday's meeting in the home of Mrs. Bob Costley, Mrs. Speck Benham served as co-hostess and other members present were Mrs. Carl Sims, Mrs. Melvin Tuck, Mrs. Dick Dawdy, Mrs. Don Johnston, Mrs. Speck Benham, Mrs. Bettie Hunter, Mrs. Sue Michael and Mrs. Ernestine Costley.

MIL meet set

Canyon Mother-in-law Club will be meeting Thursday afternoon, Sept. 16, at 2:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. C.W. Dunn at 1413 3rd Avenue.

Double ring

matron was Mrs. Jim (Deb) Edwards of Amarillo.

The bridal attendants wore floor length summer dresses of tiny floral print with v-neck styled bodices and billowing sleeves of rose cut lace. The dresses had natural fitted waists with a bound ruffle completing the hemline. Colors ranged from dark to light blue with wine and an off-white background. Nougats of baby blue daisies, deep blue corn flowers and baby's breath accented with off-white satin streamers were carried by the bridal attendants. They wore light blue hats designed to match the bride's headdress with off-white rose cut lace complementing their dresses.

Steve Arts of Dalhart served as best man. Groomsmen were Mike Coy of Canyon, Jim Deberry of Abilene, Dexter Harmon of Perryton, and Mike Wall of Amarillo, a cousin of the bridegroom. Kelly Brecht, a brother of the bridegroom, served as the usher.

The wedding reception followed in the church parlor with musical selections by Miss Rene' Harwood of Pampa presented in the background. Reception tables were accented with the nosegay arrangements carried by the bridal attendants with candelabrum centering the table with baby blue candles.

The bride's three tiered wedding cake was decorated with baby blue roses and the groom's table held a strawberry cake, which was prepared by the bride.

Following their wedding trip to Albuquerque, New Mexico and Denver and Aurora in Colorado, the couple have established their home at the Heritage House Apartments in Amarillo.

Canyon's churchlife

Ed Rivas, a Canyon sociologist who teaches at WTSU, will give a multi-media presentation on "Personal Growth" Sunday at the Amarillo Unitarian Fellowship. Using slides and contemporary musical selections, Mr. Rivas will present the characteristics of a growing person described by humanistic psychologist Carl Rogers.

Rivas has a BA in social work from St. Mary's University and a master's of social work from Our Lady of the Lake College in San Antonio. He received further training as a group facilitator from the National Training Laboratories. He has developed audio-visual aids used by the National Institute of Mental Health for training mental health workers.

The Unitarian Fellowship

meets at 10:55 Sunday. The Fellowship building is on the corner of 49th Street and Cornell.

"In A World of Permanent Change" is the title for the morning worship sermon today at 10 a.m. at First Presbyterian Church of Canyon. Basic scripture lessons for the sermon are Psalm 90, Hebrews 12:7-29 and I Corinthians 13:8-13.

Special "Weeks of Prayer" are underway this week to benefit state missions with local dollars. Both First Baptist Church and Calvary Baptist Church in Canyon will be participating with special meetings and collections.

First Baptist Church will be welcoming back the university students with a dinner party today at the Canyon Junior High School cafeteria with the menu featuring fried chicken. The afternoon will feature dramas, sing-a-longs and general getting acquainted fellowship.

The church also sponsors an "Adopt-A-Buff" styled project to benefit university students and families participating from the church.

First United Methodist Church members will be having an annual All-Church Picnic today at Cota Canyon beginning at 3 p.m. The pool is to be open from 3:30 until 5 p.m. with a lifeguard on duty.

Other recreation for the afternoon will include hiking and volleyball. A nursery is being provided and the picnic supper will begin at 6 p.m. All families are asked to provide food for the meal with drinks and bread to be provided through the church.

Evening worship services will be at 7:30 p.m. Those needing transportation should check with the church office early.

Board of Deacons September meeting for First Presbyterian Church of Canyon was rescheduled this month and will be held at fellowship hall this morning with a breakfast beginning at 8 a.m. The stated meeting for the Session is set this evening at 7 p.m. in Conference Rooms A & B.

Sixth Avenue Church of Christ will begin a fall revival with worship services today at 10:30 a.m. and 6:30 p.m.

Garland Lipe of Havana, Ark., is the evangelist for the revival. Local residents are invited for today's services and the week day evening workshops at 8 p.m. through Sept. 19.

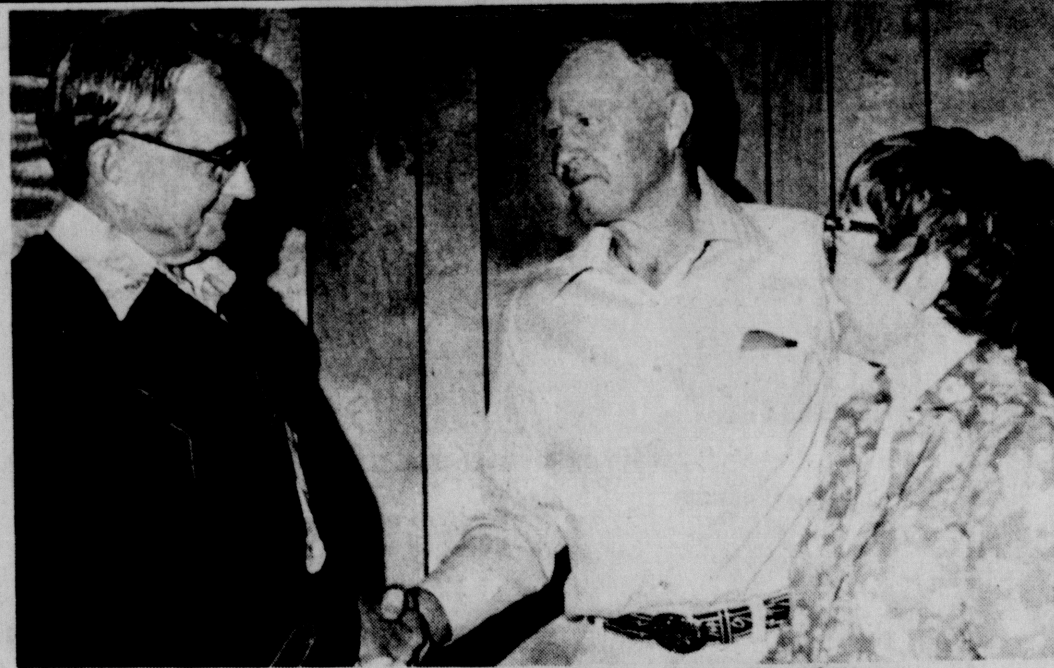

A new children's music madness program will begin Wednesday night for students grades one through six at the First United Methodist Church. The program will be explained at a parent meeting in fellowship hall Wednesday evening at 7 p.m.

The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints invites all local residents to attend regular Sunday meetings. Priesthood classes are at 9 a.m. with the Sunday School hour at 10:30 a.m. Sacrament meetings are held Sunday evenings at 6 p.m.

Revival services will begin Wednesday evening, Sept. 15, at the Canyon Church of the Nazarene at 2108 13th Avenue in Canyon. An invitation is extended all local residents by George Camp, pastor.

Evangelist for the special fall services will be Joseph and Ruth Gray. Rev. Gray is a pastor, evangelist and educator and has authored several books on faith. Mrs. Gray illustrates well-known hymns through flannel pictures on an easel and adds much to the overall service.

Music for the revival will be conducted by the Calvary Cross Singers. The revival, Sept. 15-19, will have worship services at 7 p.m. each evening with the schedule next Sunday being 10:45 a.m. and 6 p.m.

Dutch Cleavinger, retiring president, congratulates the new chairman of the Canyon Senior Citizens organization, Paul Glover, and the new publicity chairman, Marie Bonfield.

Senior Citizens elect officers

Paul Glover was elected to serve as president of the Canyon Senior Citizens Association at the group's election meeting Thursday evening.

Glover, a long-time resident of the Canyon area, headed up the successful building committee which recently completed the remodeling of the Senior Citizens Building at 1719 3rd Avenue.

Other officers elected to serve the association for 1976-77 are Hubert Thomson, vice president; Mrs. Susie Conatser, secretary; and Windy Miller, treasurer.

In the coming year, Canyon Senior Citizens plan to continue holding weekly potluck suppers with game night activities on Thursday nights. Plans are also being made to have a "games afternoon" for members to participate in games of their choice on Wednesdays. Joe Frank is to serve as chairman for the afternoon game events.

In addition, the Senior Citizens are planning a variety of programs and crafts classes for the membership. All members are invited to participate and make additional suggestions on classes and instruction of their preference.

The advisory council for the Senior Citizens in the coming year will include Tom Beard, chairman, Clarence Beckman, Woody Pond, Ishmael Hill and Felix Pierce.

Named to head the various committees for the coming year were Mrs. Flossie Johnston, membership; Mrs. Dean Angel, entertainment; Mrs. Ida Frank, refreshments; Marie Bonfield, publicity; and Mrs. Ray Metcalf, recreation.

between 80 and 90 percent of all persons in Texas who were registered to vote cast ballots. In 1972, a presidential election year, 71.7 percent of Canyon's registered voters took advantage of their right to vote, according to Leroy Hutton, County Clerk.

The new voter registration law provides that Texans need only fill out a registration postcard and mail it to the County Tax Office. These people may also fill out a form in the office.

Statistics from the secretary of state office in Austin show that voter participation increases with age. Texans between the age of 18-20 participate in elections less than any other population segment, with the 21-24 year bracket following close behind. Persons in the 65-74 age group participate most.

Secretary of State Mark White said that most people, regardless of age, tend to vote once they complete the process of registering. Between 80 and 90 percent of registered voters do vote.

The rules for registering are simple. New residents must register anew, even if registered in another county. Persons reaching the age of 18 on or before November 2 and registered voters that have changed precincts or have had a name change also need to observe the Oct. 2 deadline in order to be eligible to vote.

Persons who have not received a new voter registration card and have not notified the tax office must register again. If a voter certificate is lost or destroyed, the voter should submit to the registrar a signed Statement of Loss, and the registrar will issue a replacement certificate.

If information on the voter certificate is incorrect or needs to be changed, present the incorrect certificate to the registrar, who will issue a new, corrected certificate.

For persons who will not be in property, Metcalf said.

The threat of more wells being drilled on the strip is the city's real fear, Metcalf said.

The water district turned down a recent application for a new well there.

"But just because it has been denied once doesn't mean it will be denied again," he said.

The city contends that the well necessarily draws water to which the city has bought and paid for the water rights.

Canyon on November 2, absentee voting will be October 13-29 at the County Clerk's Office in the courthouse. Absentee voters may call or come by the County Tax Office for applications of ballot by mail. Mailed ballots must be postmarked no later than midnight, Nov. 1. These must be received by noon Nov. 2 in the County Clerk's Office.

College students may participate in their hometown elections or may register in Canyon and vote here.

Senior Citizens, 65 years of age or older, may cast absentee ballots regardless of their expected location on election day.

narrow shoulder of Lamont Street.

A committee of parents, including Jay's father, Harold Knight, worked through the Gene Howe PTA to obtain the necessary 50 per cent of the property owners to agree to pay for the street improvements.

The re-modeled street was expected to be finished by the start of school.

Thursday in Lubbock, Burl Masters, a partner in an engineering and design firm, said most of the problems in securing a plat for property owned by Sam Atabury have been resolved.

He estimated that his part of the plat would be complete within ten days.

The hold-up is the result of a re-alignment of Lamont Street north of Scotty. The property to the west of Lamont is owned by Atabury and the McClure family, Masters said.

His firm has been coordinating plans for the two owners for the best use of the property once the street has been changed, he said.

Masters said he will have everything necessary within 10 days to notify city planners.

Amarillo city engineer Pat Christal said that final plans have been held up waiting for the Atabury plat. He could not set a date for the expected construction.

treatment.

The student's complaints were discussed with both the district attorney, Randall Sherrod and Canyon police chief Al Stewart. The complaints, which had seemed genuine at first, became more bizarre. Finally, the student was offered and took a lie detector test, which showed he was lying most of the time.

The man, who had an extensive police record from other cities, was placed under several more charges by local authorities, who said they thought he was dangerous to society.

Several other investigations of specific complaints also failed to show any police misconduct.

The only incident that could be substantiated was a complaint by the mother of a teenage girl who was detained as part of a drug investigation of which she had only an accidental connection. She was brought to jail in handcuffs before being released by police.

Stewart said it was a general policy to handcuff all persons transported in the police car for the patrolman's safety. This is not always followed, he said, depending on the officer's judgment of risk. Because juveniles commit such a high percentage of violent crimes, they must be viewed with caution, he said.

News publisher Troy Martin said the paper would continue to look into complaints of misconduct.

"I feel we have no other choice," he said.

But, he added, in view of the fact that nothing of significance was uncovered during The News investigation, complaints would have to be well-documented before the paper would investigate.

Chamber gives coin sets

Canyon Chamber of Commerce has completed a three year series of commemorative coins as a bicentennial effort for the community.

The Chamber this week presented matching three medal sets of each of the three annual commemorative coins to the Panhandle Plains Historical Museum for the collection of artifacts there.

In addition to the three coin sets, the Chamber also presented the original sketches by local artist Jim Ward which were used in designing the coins.

Each of the three coin sets presented bore the matching serial number of 19. John Childs served as general chairman of the Chamber's commemorative coin project during the three year period.

Netter champs back

At West Texas State University a championship tennis team is as inevitable as final exams. The Buffs, who won the Missouri Valley Conference title again last spring, gathered for some group exercise over the Labor Day week-end in Amarillo for the State Tennis Tournament.

"We have just completed the Tri State Tennis Tournament and I was very happy because the whole team, in either singles or doubles, did a good job and I think we are going to have a good team this year," said Coach David Kent.

"We have everyone back from our championship team last year," added Kent.

Kent had some praise for individual players in the competition.

"I was especially proud of Brent Hall and Steve Johnson, who won the doubles and Johnson played magnificent tennis in the singles.

"Overall, I think we have an outstanding team and I thought we did a magnificent job in the Tri State."

It would seem that when you have everyone back from a team that blitzed the league last year the only thing you should be preparing for is that congratulatory call from the president. Kent is doing no such thing.

"We are going to be playing in the Midland Tournament September 17 and 18 and it is one of the toughest tournaments we will play in the whole year," said Kent.

Kent pointed out that Hall and Johnson were outstanding in the tournament last year, losing in the semi-finals of the doubles, and they will have some competition waiting for them this time around.

"We will be going up against Trinity and Houston and Rice and all of the best in Texas and this is what we want, good hard competition at this time of the year."

Women softball season to open

The West Texas State University women's softball team will open their 1976 schedule at 7 p.m. this Monday at the WT softball field against Texas Tech.

"Our team is going to be young and inexperienced," said Coach Kim Ratliff. "But the thing that is really holding them together is the fact that they are playing with a lot of pride. Our infielders are looking terrific at the point, and I think as the season progresses, the whole team will come around and play well.

On the mound for the Buffs will be Belinda Whitson.

"Belinda is showing good speed and she seems to have control," said Ratliff. "Our other two pitchers, Cindy Pearce and Wilma Langdon, are having a little control problem right now, but I am confident they will be able to smooth out their control once the season gets underway."

Chamber to meet

Canyon Chamber of Commerce board of directors will conduct a regular business meeting Monday evening, Sept. 13, at 6:30 p.m. in the Coffee Room of the First National Bank building.

The subject for the morning worship at the First United Pentecostal Church will be "Take Good Care of the Perishables." Pastor Calvin Rashall will be speaking.

The LLL Club will be meeting for lunch on Friday, Sept. 17, and following the covered-dish luncheon will view recent trip pictures provided by Martha Goodman.

Miss Hicks - Mixon exchange nuptial vows

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent J. Meyer, Sr.

Anniversary event

A Mass of Thanksgiving will be read today at 10 a.m. in St. Mary's Catholic Church at Umbarger to honor Mr. and Mrs. Vincent J. Meyer, Sr. on the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Meyer were married in 1926 at Lenexa, Kansas with Rev. Father Haffel officiating. They had both lived in Kansas for 50 years before moving to Texas in December 1950.

Mr. Meyer is a retired farmer. They now live in Umbarger and will be honored there with a family dinner at the Parish Hall today.

The couple reared six children: Joseph, James, Donald, Rita, Mildred and Vincent C. They also have 23 grandchildren.

Woman's Book Club opens fall season

Woman's Book Club held its first meeting of the fall season Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Ocie Holt, 1819 Fourth Avenue.

Mrs. L. H. Owens gave a resume of the programs for the 1976-77 club year, based on the theme "Current Topics."

Guest speaker for the afternoon was Mrs. Larry Holman, president of Canyon Council of Federated Clubs, who traced the development of women's clubs in America. She enumerated outstanding achievements of Texas women as well as local Canyon club women.

Mrs. Holman stressed areas to be given nationwide attention in women's clubs during the current year. The Hands-Up Program, a crime prevention effort, is given priority. Citizens cooperate with local police departments in Operation Identification by placing driver's license numbers on valuable personal property. The Poll Power program will function through use of local newspaper and radio stations to encourage voting in the November election.

Another item of importance is the Federation Club dinner on November 8 in University Church of Christ.

The speaker named three Canyon women who hold state offices: Mrs. Harriet Brandon, Mrs. Janice Louder, and Mrs. JoAnna Slack. These women need financial support from all local clubs in return for the contributions they make in time and personal expense incurred.

Announcement was made of open house at Girlstown in Hoger on Sept. 25, which is a special "interest project" for Woman's Book Club during the current year.

Mrs. Lon Fanning, WBC president, conducted a brief business session. Refreshments were served to twenty-five members by the members of the executive council serving as hostesses.

Miss Linda Dianne Hicks and William Manning Mixon, Jr. exchanged double ring wedding vows in ceremonies conducted Saturday evening, Sept. 11, at the First United Methodist Church of Canyon.

Rev. Newton Starnes of Sweetwater, former pastor of the church here, officiated at the nuptial exchange.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. W. (Bill) Hicks of Canyon and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. William M. Mixon of 1603 E. Southcross in San Antonio.

Mrs. Glenn Dowlen was organist presenting selections for the prelude including "Meditation" by Massenet, "Sheep May Safely Graze" by Bach, "Nocturne" by Mendelssohn, "Serenade" by Schubert, and "Reverie" by Schumann. Mrs. Dowlen also accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Landrum of Dumas for the vocal presentations of "The Twelfth of Never," "Wedding Song" and "The Lord's Prayer."

A large arched candelabrum, decorated with lemon leaf foliage, backed the altar. Large pedestal stands held arrangements featuring apricot and white gladioli with apricot carnations and white pom poms. Large spiraling candelabrum completed the altar arrangement. The couple used the profile type kneeling bench and lit the unity candle at the conclusion of the wedding rites.

For her wedding the bride chose an old fashioned wedding gown of white organza designed with a high rise silhouette style. The fitted bodice of re-embroidered Alencon lace was sprinkled with seed pearls and accented with a sheer sculptured yoke featuring a cameo neckline and sheer tapered sleeves. Overlaying the wristlength sleeves were long bell shaped sleeves traced at the edges with flowerettes of lace. The controlled skirt was edged with deep scallops of Alencon lace at the hem.

The controlled wedding skirt was complemented with a sweeping chapel length wateau train of organza embellished with appliques of matching lace. The bride's full length mantilla of silk illusion was held to a flat band of matching lace. The mantilla featured cascading scallops of lace at the edge.

Escorted and presented in marriage by her father, the bride carried out the marriage traditions by wearing an antique necklace belonging to her great aunt, the late Annie Elliott, as "something old," chose her wedding dress as "something new" and for "something borrowed" had white lace handkerchiefs belonging to her Grandmothers Hicks and Greer. She completed the traditions with a blue wedding garter and had a penny minted the year of her birth in the bridal shoe.

Bridal attendants wore floor length dresses of sheer polyester in apricot colors featuring small white floral embroidered designs. Designed on the princess styling, the dresses featured puffed sleeves and each attendant wore an apricot colored picture hat. They carried nosegays of apricot and white carnations with roses and highlighting baby's breath featuring white and apricot satin streamers.

Mrs. Steve Gilbert of Hereford served as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Kay Hager of Canyon, Miss Carol Olson of Amarillo and Miss Lowana Vidrine of Houston.

Flower girl was Miss Elaine Howard of Canyon, a cousin of the bride, who wore a floorlength dress styled to match the bridal attendants and carried a small white basket filled with apricot and white flowers.

Ring bearer was Jason Hicks of Umbarger, a nephew of the bride, who wore a brown tuxedo with apricot shirt matching the outfits worn by the best man and groomsmen.

Best man was David Charpiot of Houston. Groomsmen were Allen Hicks of Dalhart, brother of the bride, and Charlie Sanders and John Dunn, both of Bellville. Ushers were the bride's brother, Marion Hicks, and a cousin of the bride, Don Howard.

Wedding guests were registered by Miss Beverly Smith of Canyon. For her daughter's wedding, the bride's mother chose a floor length dress of mint green complemented with a yellow orchid corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a rose colored floor length dress with white orchid corsage.

A reception for the newlyweds followed at the church parlor where the bride's table was laid with white lace over apricot. A floral arrangement of apricot and white carnations accented the table. Serving the four tiered wedding cake and punch from the bride's table were Mrs. Marion Hicks of Umbarger and Mrs. Allen Hicks of Dalhart, sisters-in-law of the bride.

Attending the bridegroom's table was Mrs. Rick Lopez of Amarillo. Also helping with the reception were Irene Hicks, Mrs. Tom Platt, Mrs. Alvin Risner, Mrs. Benny Woods, Miss Debbie Sparks and Miss Terri Sparks.

The bride changed to a three piece rust colored pantsuit for the wedding trip to Las Vegas, Nevada. The couple planned to honeymoon also in the Los Angeles, Calif. area before establishing their home at 2501 Tanglewilde #75 at Houston.

A 1971 graduate of Canyon High School, the bride received her B.B.A. degree from West Texas State University in 1974 where she was a member of Phi Gamma Nu. She is presently employed with Gulf Oil Company in Houston.

The bridegroom graduated from Highland High School in San Antonio and received his Bachelor of Arts degree in 1972 from Southwest Texas State University at San Marcos. He is presently employed as the assistant manager for Gardenland Inc. of Houston.

Mrs. William Manning Mixon, Jr.
nee Linda Dianne Hicks

Museum auxiliary has quarterly meet

Panhandle Plains Historical Museum was the meeting site for the Museum Auxiliary members on Tuesday with Betty Morrison, president, in charge of the quarterly session.

Regular reports included the reading of minutes and appreciation letters by Lois Hull, secretary; a treasury report; and a report on membership given by Grace Knighton, chairman.

New members added to the volunteer realms of the auxiliary in recent months are Julie Oberg and Jackie Wilson with Mary Alice Hines becoming a member at the meeting. The membership presently consists of 25 volunteers are needed, especially those who might have morning hours available to serve. For information on membership contact either Grace Knighton, 655-4600, or Betty Morrison, 655-3510.

Various other reports were given including a summary of the auxiliary scrapbook by Zoe Henry and Chris McGlasson, who are in charge.

Next quarterly meeting for the auxiliary will be on Dec. 14 when a pre-holiday Christmas tea is planned to be held at the home of the president, Betty Morrison.

The auxiliary will be hosting a reception on Oct. 3 at the museum for a photography exhibit being opened by Ray Johnson. The reception will be from 2-4 p.m.

CAPTURE LOST HEAT WITH A

heat pump and save money . . .

The heat pump is a home heating system that actually captures heat that would otherwise be wasted. The electric heat pump actually squeezes warmth out of cold outside air and uses that warmth inside your home.

The Lost Heat you pay for is a real villain, but you can turn him into a good guy with an electric heat pump. Call The Electric Company for complete information on the electric heat pump. It saves energy, saves money.
